First Ward Supper Wednesday Night

Next Wednesday, November 29th, another supper and bazaar in aid of the Ward building fund is being held in the Opera House. We doubt if more need be said. The quality of these suppers in the past is all the advertising they need, outside of an announcement of the date.. Tickets are new being sold for the supper and will no doubt sell readily.

The entire building of the Stake and Ward House is covered in and the heating plant is practically installed, window frames are in place and windows are expected soon, so that as soon as these are installed, inside work can proceed without any stop when started regardless of weather and those in charge of the building are going to rush it through to completion just as fast as funds can be collected to pay for materials and supplies as needed.

Red Cross Meeting Tonight

Everyone is asked to be at the Town Hall Friday night at 8 p. m. for a Red Cross meeting. The executive have the Town charted and canvassers selected, and these announcements will be made Friday evening, with the drive likely to start Monday morning. Be on hand at 8 p.m. and let's go.

BOOST THE LION'S CARNIVAL

Raymondites, we have a queen entered in the contest in the Lion's Carnival. Let's get her elected by supporting her nomination and giving her our votes. She is sponsored by the Athletic Association, the staff and student body of the High School and deserves our support.

The Carnival is being staged to gather funds for the building of a Community Swimming Pool. With the benefits we have received from our Pool we need not spend any time boosting the worthiness of this project and will only ask that Raymond people at least buy a ticket and give the Pool a boost.

LIBRARY NOTES

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

'Christmas Holiday', Maugham
'Valley of Thunder', Beach
"Three Sisters,' Spencer

This book is the junior M.I.A. book for the year 1939. It is the biography of the Soong family of China. The brothers are high in the financial control of China, one sister is the wife of the head of the Government enc the wife of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek who leads the armies and is the War Time dictator of all China, one sister is the widow of the founder of the Chinese Republic Born in China and educated in America they all returned to their native land to become leading men and women and to do a great work among their people.

The best sellers at the end of October 1939 are: "The Grapes of Wrath", Steinbeck. 'Children of God," Fisher. "Christ in Concrete," Donato. 'Rebecca' Maurier, "The Web and the Rock", Wolfe. "Next to Valour" Jennings.

The mid November list places 'Rebecca" as having as many copys as 'The Grapes of Wrath.' is 'Rebecca' going to lead the December list as it did in De 1938, Raymond readers pre Rebecca, to any of the best sellers of 1939 and the waiting list is still long at the Library.

We notice Zane Grey had an estimated Fifty Four Million readers and fifty four published books, and that he left complete manuscripts for two novels, which will be published later. the author of 'Christ in Concret'

Many peple ask who Donato is. He is an Italian American bricklayer and works side by side with the men he tells of in his book. How many of the characters are men from among the men he works with Donato has never said but when asked he smiled and said all of them might be.

W. L. Jones, Town Secretary was in Stavely over the week end on official business.

Large Crowd At Red Cross Meeting

The 2nd Ward Church was well filled Tuesday evening last for the Red Cross meeting, the first public meeting to be held in connection with the coming drive in Raymond and district The Mutuals of the two Raymond wards very kindly gave up their regular work to listen to Mayor Elton and A. E. Russell, both of Lethbridge who were here to speak on Red Cross and outline the necessary organization for the drive. Chairman Lee Brewerton was in charge of the meeting.

Mayor Elton was the first speaker, who spoke of the horrors and uselessness of war, but said that it became necessary at times to fight to protect and maintain our freedom, a thing of which Britishers were justly proud, and the present occasion was one of these. Attempts at peace and reconciliation had failed and we were at war. He expressed the hope that all would do their full part in the aid of the Red Cross, an organization which knew no enemies or foes, nor race nor creed, and had but one purpose the doing of good to all who were suffering, needy or in distress. He spoke to the young people, and gave them a couple of short poems fer them to think over in building their characters in the years to come.

Mr. Russell, who is a member of the Provincial executive devoted his remarks to the organization and growth of International Red Cross over a period of 61 years, and of the suffering in the Crimean war which led to its inception. It was not a time organization only but also functioned in peace times and one of the most recent bequests of Red Cross preceding this war $64,000 given to the Chinese to assist in caring for their sick and unfortunate.

In the work of the Red Cross drive a Campaign Committee was necessary and under the Chairman of this committee appointments should be made for Publicity man, captains of small areas and an entertainment man or group. It had also been found that the men usually had the best luck in canvassing for subscriptions, leaving the ladies to assist in the work room., supervising the supplies necessary and the entertainment. In the obtaining of supplies for bandages, knitting, jackets, etc., the group may either spend their own funds and purchase locally if the price was no higher than the central purchasing agency would have to pay, or they could send in their requisitions to divisional headquarters and receive supplies from there. The cutting of the various garments had so far all been done in Calagry and the sewing done by the various groups, although patterns and instructions were available if a group had a competent cutter for this type of work. Mr. Russell spoke briefly of the Junior Red Cross and urged that a unit might be organized in our schools

The Chairman thanked the speakers for their instructive remarks and the Mutuals for conceding the time to the Red Cross and Bishop Walker for the use of the hall, and after singing the National Anthem, the meeting adjourned, it being understood that as soon as the charter and instructions were received the rest of the committees would be set up and the drive undertaken as soon as possible as we were late now in this work.

Another Payment To Beet Growers

A second payment of 1939 beets delivered up to October 21, this year, totalling $280,000 went into the mails this week, and represents the total initial payment of $5.90 per ton on practically all the beets delivered this year by the 1,000 growers in Southern Alberta. The total deliveries when this payment was made were 262,000 tons.

Further payments will be made as the sugar is sold, the growers sharing a 50-50 bonus with the Company on sales as the season advances, providing prices do not go down too much.

HIGH PRIESTS SOCIAL

The annual Social of the High Priests groups of the two Raymond wards was held in the 2nd Ward Church Wednesday evening, with about 75 present including the ladies. A very enjoyable evening was spent in program, games and refreshments, and the griddle cakes and cocoa which were the refreshments, seemed to satisfy everyone, because they disappeared as if by magic. Following is the program

WEDDING BELLS

Frizler -- Cook

Rosie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Fred Cook of Raymond, and Herbert Frizler, of Vulcan, were married by the resident Minister at Vulcan on Thursday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Cook, mother of the bride who witnessed the wedding.

The young couple will make their home in Vulcan where the groom is engaged in farming. The best wishes of the many friends of Miss Rosie in Raymond are extended to her for a long and happy married life in her new home.

"Straight Is The Way" Saturday Night

Sponsored by the 2nd Ward Genealogical Committee and directed by Mrs. L. D. King, the pageant drama "Straight is the Way," will be presented in the 2nd Ward Recreation Hall tomorrow night, Nov. 25th. The cast has been working diligently on this presentation and we are assured by those in charge that the presentation will be worthy of everyone's support.

Special scenery has been painted to harmonize with the theme of the show, and being of a deeply spiritual nature it will carry a worth while message for young and old, and all are urged to attend. The doors will open at 7:30 and the performance is scheduled to start at 8:30 sharp.

Lee Brewerton Heads Local Red Cross

At an enthusiastic meeting in the Town Hall on Sunday last, Lee Brewerton was chosen chairman of the local Red Cross unit, with Walter H. Zobell as Vice- Chairman and F. D. Merrill as Secretary.

Mayor Cope acted as Chairman of the meeting until Lee Brewerton was chosen chairman pro-tem with Don Merrill Secretary of the meeting. When nominations were called for and voting done, the above named were elected to the executive positions of the associations.

In his opening remarks the Mayor told of some of the activities of the Red Cross in the last Great War and of the additional comforts provided for soldiers, the assistance to the suffering and the general good accomplished by this organization throughout the world, especially in times of major disasters and catastrophes.

The new Chairman after assuring the meeting of the willingness of the new executive to do their very best, mentioned some of the immediate objectives to be achieved and it was decided to hold a meeting Tuesday night and have speakers from Lethbrige outline the present campaign in detail to Raymond people.

As it required ten paid up members to secure a charter for a local unit, it was suggested that those present pay their membership before leaving so that a charter could be immediately obtained. Out of the 21 present 16 paid up before they left and the others expressed their intentions of doing so immediately. This was a fine token of the local interest in Red Cross and made the elected officials feel that their task might not be so onerous after all provided this willingness was demonstrated in all the people of the district.

Mr. Taylor, organizer for the Alberta Motor Transport Association was in town Tuesday contacting local transport men rejoining the association.

Ten Airfields For Alberta

TO BE BUILT ALONG T.C.A. ROUTES WEST AND NORTH

Edmonton, Nov. 22 — (C.P.) —Agreement has been reached between the province and Dominion under which 10 addition al airfields will be constructed in Alberta, Hon. W. A. Fallow minister of public works, announced today.

Mr. Fallow and Provincial Treasurer Solon Low have just returned from Ottawa where they conferred with the Dominion government on a number of matters.

The airfield pact with Ottawa provides that the province will provide all the surveys, engineering facilities and necessary equipment for these fields, said Mr. Fallow.

"These airfields will be constructed along the line of the Trans-Canada Airlines from Walsh to the western provincial boundary of the Crow's Nest Pass and also along the line flown from this city to Lethbridge," said Mr. Fallow.

Work on this program has begun and it will be rushed to completion, said the minister.

Details of the proposed use of the fields were not disclosed by Mr. Fallow but it is believed that the Dominion requires fields of standard size and equipment. In all probability, they will be used in connection with the empire air force training scheme.

At present there are some emergency landing fields on the Trans-Canada Airlines route, in addition to the main airfields at Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbrige.—Lethbridge Herald

Raymond Electric Store Under New Management

The Raymond Electric, under the management of Lee Brewerton, was a busy scene Saturday on its official opening, when from nine a.m. until closing time at 8 p.m., the store was filled with interested visitors, looking over and asking questions about the many pieces of electrical ware on the floor and asking about their operation, utility, etc.

Along with representatives of the wholesale houses were there, two officials of the Calgary Power and two expert dieticians were in here, and throughout the day the ladies were being served light refreshments, prepared on the electric al appliances in stock, as a demonstration of the utility and their labor saving features.

Washers, refrigerators, toasters, sandwich makers, irons, mixers, coffee makers and what not, products of General Electric and Westinghouse, as well as hot plates, and ranges of various sizes were all attractively arranged and made an imposing array on the shelves and floor of the store. Early lady visitors to the store were given souvenirs of the occasion and the management expressed pleasure at the fine response the opening day received from Raymond citizess.

The public are reminded too, that from now on, electric light bills will be payable at the Calgar Power Co. office instead of at the bank as heretofore.

Christmas will be four weeks from Monday. Not long to wait is it?

LET'S PUT IT OVER

We are writing this in the expectation that before we print again the Red Cross drive of our local organization will have been started. With this thought in view, we would like to put our weight, if we have any behind the ones in charge of the drive to make it a success. We observe from the papers that in almost every town and hamlet where the Red Cross drive is now in progress that the quota is being exceeded every day, and we hope that such will be the case locally. Lethbridge has made over $1,000 per day every day their drive has been in progress. Other towns have exceeded their allotment and are still working, devising various new and novel schemes to swell the totals.

We know of no more worthy cause to boost than Red Cross. When one reads of the hospitals erected, and the assistance given to crippled children, chilren whose parents are unable to obtain the medical and surgical care they need, chronic cases of various kinds that are treated in Red Cross institutions, nursing services provided, and other peace time services, one cannot help but praise the Red Cross. Now, in connection with the maintaining of these services, the activities of the Red Cross in war time will be devoted to adding comforts in clothing for the men in active service, to providing hospitals and hospital service in the front lines, and to rendering aid to those in need regardless of nationality, color or creed, one gets a glimpse of what a fine work this is to be associated with.

The fact too, that so many men and women are donating their entire time to the Red Cross, neglecting their private affairs and laboring full time without remuneration should be all we need to cause us to dig down and help when the call comes. And, as pointed out by Mr. Russell Tuesday evening, if there are those, who cannot assist financially, they should feel that their is nothing for them to do. They will find plenty to do in canvassing, sewing, knitting packaging and shipping and other labors connected with this work, which as the struggle continues will be more needed more and more by the victims of war.

One slogan we heard repeated was this "It's fine to be a good sitter, but it is much better to be a good giver." Again we repeat our sentiment of last week, there should be some feelings of gratitude for the peace and security which we enjoy, and in the enjoyment of this freedom and peace of mind we should be glad to aid in the alleviation of distress and suffering amongst the men who are willing to bear the load, and amongst the women and children of these men who are left to a certain extent, and possibly quite a large extent, for institutions such as Red Cross to add to the bare necessities provided for by the authorities of the governments. It is not expected that anyone will be asked to give to the point of sacrifice in this drive. Officials estimate that $1.00 for each adult in the Dominion will more than cover the present request of $3,000,000, and surely there are few of us but what can spare $2.00 per family, in most cases to aid such a cause as Red Cross. And let us give gladly, and remember the old proverb "the gift, without the giver is bare."

ALBERTA LICENSE PLATES ORANGE AND BLACK 1940

OFFICIALS INDICATE NEW COLOR COMBINATION, PERMANENT PLATE NOT FAVORED; REBATE ON PLATES TURNED IN BEFORE JANUARY 10th NEXT

Alberta's motor license colors for the next year, opening on April 1, 1940, likely will be orange on black, the first color combination of that kind adopted for this province. It has been used in Saskatchewan and other provinces with good results.

This will mean that the numerals and letters will be of orange color, with a black background.

This year's colors were aluminum on black, and this also has been satisfactory, but even better results are expected from next year's colors.

Adoption of a permanent color combination is not likely to be carried out in this province, though some states south operate this system.

Officials of the provincial secretary's department report that there are strong prospects of car registrations in the current license year beaking all records.

At last reports the total registrations for passenger cars and motor trucks was 193,512, just slightly behind the total for the whole of the previous year.

License rebates will be made up to Jan. 10, next if plates either for passenger cars or motor trucks are turned in before that date. The rebate will be 20 per cent of the annual license fee. Last year about $50,000 was paid out to motorists in rebates after they had turned in their license plates.

Millard Raymond Sealock, 22, of Lomond, Alberta was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon when a tractor left the grade and turned over as he was riding on the fender. The tractor was returning to farm headquarters after completing a dugout on the farm when the accident occurred. The driver of the tractor was uninjured.

PROPHECY

HOW AUTHENTIC IS THIS?

Mother Shipton was born in Norfolk, England more than 500 years ago. She died in 1449 From her writings, it is evident that she was prophetic. She looked down the vista of years to the Latter Days." She anticipated coming wars, moral breakdown of nations and modern inventions as radio, submarines, aeroplanes, etc.

Now a word in uncouth rhyme,
Of what shall be in future time,
For in that wondrous far off days
The women will adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear
And cut off all their locks of hair
They'll ride astride with brazen brow
As witches do on broomsticks now.
Then love shall die and marriage cease
And nations wane as babes decrease.
Then wives will fondle cats and dogs
And men live much the same as hogs,
A carriage without horse will go
Disaster fill the world with woe.
In London Primrose hill shall be
Its center hold a Bishop's See
Around the world men's thoughts shall fly
Quick as the twinkle of an eye.
And waters shall great wonders do,
How strange, and yet it shall be true.
Then upside down the world will be,
And gold found at the root of tree.
Through towering hills proud men shall ride,
No horse or mule move at his side.
Beneath the waters men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep and even talk,
And in the air men shall be seen
In white, in black as well as green.
A great man then shall come and go
For prophecy declares it so.
In water iron then shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found in streams and stones,
Water and fire shall wonders do,
In a land as yet unknown,
And England will admit a Jew
The Jew that onee was held in scorn
Shall of a Christian be born.
A house of glass shall come to pass
In England but alas, alas,
A war shall follow with the work
There dwells the pagan and the turk
The states shall lock in furcest strife
And seek to take each other's life.
The North shall thus divide the Soutth
The eagle builds in lions' mouth
Then tax and blood and cruel war
Shall come to every humble door.
Then when the furcest fight is done
England and Germany shall be as one.
The British lad will then entwine
In marriage with the German vine.
All England's sons that till the land
Shall oft be found with book in hand.
The poor shall great wisdom know
And water wind when corn doth grow,
Great houses stand in far flung vale,
All covered over with snow and hail.
In nineteen hundred and twenty-six
Build houses light of straw and stticks
For then shall mighty wars be planned
When pictures seem alive with movements free,
When boats like fishes swim beneath the sea,
When men like birds scour the sky,
For half this world deep drenched in blood shall die.
But those who live to see this through,
In fear and trembling this will do
Flee to the mountains and the dens
To bog and forest and wild fens,
For storms shall rage and oeeans roar
When Gabriel stands on sea and shore,
And as he blows his wondrous horn
Old worlds will die and new be born.

WEEKLY LETTER

FALLOW vs. NON-FALLOW

During recent years a few careful wheat farmers in the moderately dry areas of southern Alberta have discontinued summer-fallowing and are growing wheat continuously on their dry land wheat farms. They have met with fair success, especially in the last few years and this has caused a number of famers to consider abandoning summer-fallowing if one can judge by the inquiries received at this Station for information regarding yields on land where grain has been grown continuously for a number of years. These farmers were interested not only in the actual yields secured but in addition they wish to know what might be expected if the same field was planted to grain every year for a long time.

Fortunately the need for such information was anticipated many years ago andin 1912 a field at this Dominion Experimental Station was set aside to be seeded to wheat each year. Alongside this field are two more of the same size where summer-fallow and wheat have been alternated. These fields have received their respective treatments for 28 years and the average yield per acre for that period has been 11.6 bushels on the field that produced wheat continuously each year & from wheat planted on summer-fallow on the adjoining field 25.0 bushels per acre. This year the yield on the continuous wheat field was 16.8 bushels and the yield on the summer-fallow was 33.3 bushels. For the last three years when weeds were not an important factor, the average yield on these two fields has been 14.2 bushels per acre on the field planted every year and 25.2 bushels for the grain planted on summer-fallow. It will be noted that in both the long-time average and during the last three years the summer-fallow has produced almost twice as much as the continuous wheat. It is perhaps needless to state that no manure or fertilizers of any kind has ever been applied to these particular fields.

The factor of yield is not the only one to consider. Obviously the elimination of the summer-fallow would greatly reduce the danger of soil-drifting and on loose top clay or sandy soils this is extremely important. In fact, it is so important on sandy soils in drier areas that there is little question that such lands should not be summer-fallowed. Another factor is that of weed control. Some farmers who are raising wheat continuously have succeded in keeping their farms quite clean. The field on the Experimental Station that has been seeded to wheat every year became contaminated with wild oats at one time and the practice of delayed seeding was followed for four years which met the situation. A patch of Canada thistle, also established itself and it was necessary to black fallow for two years in succession this patch in the field to eradicate the thistle. In recent years only surface cultivation has been practiced on this field and the crop has remained comparatively clean.

The relative cost of producing a bushel of wheat with fallow and non-fallow farming would likely vary with each individual farmer, depending on moisture conditions, the equipment he has, the amount of land he must farm and the seasonal distribution of his labor. Where binders are used the cost and difficulty of harvesting low-yielding crops is an important reason for growing wheat only on fallow but where combining is practiced, the factor of harvesting is not nearly so important. Actually the cost of producing a bushel of wheat with continuous cropping or with fallowing may be found to be so nearly the same that soil erosion and weed and insect pest control may become the deciding factors in determining the use or non-use of the fallow.

Already soil drifting has caused a number who are located on difficult soils, to grow a crop every year for soil protection. Weed control, however, may become decidedly more difficult if fallowing is abandoned especially if persistent perennials establish themselves. This is a factor that may be much more important than is now realized and should be given serious consideration before a decision is made to discontinue the use of the fallow.

PROBLEMS OF EVERYDAY LIFE

"I have been connected with the church all my life," writes Mr. N. C. "Perhaps I am too much of an idealist, but I find it hard to conceal my disgust when I see selfishness and greed. I have already lost one job through being too outspoken, and it seems I will have to hide my feelings if I am to keep my present job, and am anxious to succeed, but I think I would be wrong to stifle my convictions, don't you?"

I do. But are you sure you are not mistaking opinions for convictions?

Maybe you are making the mistake of trying to force your opinions on other people. It is also possible that these opinions are not your own well reasoned opinions, but merely what you have acepted without question from someone else, and that being so, they lack weight and fail to impress those to whom you express them.

The fact that you tend to be so outspoken and find it hard to conceal your disgust seems to indicate a tendency to intolerance with those who differ from you. Intolerance is one of the greatest handicaps to success and happiness. You will never be able to get along well with people if you are intolerant of their opinions and of their ways of doing things.

You must try to correct this by striving to acquire a spirit of tolerane. This does not mean compromise, but you can hardly expect the other fellow to respect your opinions if you show no respet for his. Cultivate the art of listening quietly to what the people have to say, and always try to see both sides of a question.

We have all a great deal to learn and everyone we meet can teach us something. Mingle with your fellow men Try to understand them, to enter into their lives, and to discover the reasons for the opinions they hold. Strive to acquire a sound knowledge of your work and of as many aspects of life as possible. Unless you are sufficiently well informed about a subject to be able to discuss it intelligently, it will be better for you to listen than to participate in the discussion.

You can follow this advice and yet be true to your conscience and do what you believe to be right. In doing so, you will be able to adjust yourself properly to life. You will find it easier to get along well with people. Your chances of success will be enhanced.

Have you a problem? Let this writer help you. Address: Dr. M. M. Lappin, 501 Ryrie Building, Toronto, Ontario.

Floating Nazi mines in the shipping lanes of the Atlantic over the week end resulted in sinking of nine ships and a toll of 177 lives. The ships were mostly of neutral nations the total tonnage of the sinking 32,006 tons, and they were helpless victims of the most cowardly form of warfare known. All nations have protested strongly to Germany on this action and German prpaganda has tried to lay the blame for these floating mines on Britain.

Speakers at the 2nd Ward Sacrament meeting Sunday evening were Elders John Salmon and his son Carl, the latter recently returned from the California mission. Carl gave a report of the different towns he had labored in and some of the experiences he had and kept his audience very interested for about thirty minutes. From his report we would say that he had a busy and very suecessful mission.

Recent disturbances in Prague Checho-Slovakia, have resulted in thousands of arrests and a number of deaths by violence and some exeutions, and the situation is still tense and far from being settled. These people show a distinct dislike for the treatment they have received from the Reich, and the troubles have resulted in the closing of universities and seats of higher learning where the resentment has been worst during the troubles.

It will be a disappointment not only to Lethbridge folks but also to visitors to that city this year not to see the thousands of colored lights across the main streets of the city. The officials state the new vapor lamps installed this summer would require putting the lights so low in order to be effective that they would interfere with traffic. Fronts of buildings however may be illuminated as usual and this will help to compensate for the loss of the lights across the streets.

A HEARTY MAIN DISH

Here is a homely dish which will add prestige to your cooking. That may sound paradoxical but it's not because we mean "homely" in the very best sense of the word. This dish is plain and wholesome, economical very tasty and just the thing to set before a hungry family on a chilly fall night.

BOILED FISH AND VEGETABLE DINNER

2 lbs. fillets, steaks or pan-dressed fish
½ lb. each turnips, potatoes, onions, carrots.
1 lb. cabbage
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup diced salt pork (fat back)
2 cups water

In a heavy kettle, fry the pork to a golden brown, add 1 cup water and all the vegetables except the cabbage which is cooked separately Allow the vegetables to cook for 20 to 25 minutes, add the salt, pepper and second cup of water. Lay the fish (flesh side down) across the vegetables, cover with the cooked cabbage, and cook the whole about 5 minutes more. Place the fish in the center of a hot platter, surrounded by the cooked vegetables. The liquid remaining in the kettle may be served in a side bowl.

MISSIONARY GIVEN GOOD SEND OFF

Miss Afton Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Christensen, who has accepted a missionary call to the Canadian mission was guest of honor at a farewell social in the 1st Ward Tuesday evening, which was held after the Red Cross meeing, and which was well attended, nearly all who were at the Red Cross rally going up to the High School for the farewell.

An interesting program of singing and speech making was enjoyed during which time the missionary expressed her pleasure at the opportunity of doing missionary work. She was given an enthusiastic send off by the many friends present and received a nice collection to help her on her way. She is leaving Saturday morning for the mission home in Salt Lake City and will go from there to Toronto to receive her assignment for missionary work.

Tommy Roberts and his crew finished up the Flour and Sugar house for the Mercantile today. This building is doubled floored, tinned in the corners, and made just as moisture proof as possible. It will hold a couple of cars of either sugar or flour as is wanted by the management.

Tommy Roberts was busy Monday hanging the large door on Fromm's Service Station. This door is very nice and is said by those familiar with such things to be the finest garage door in Southern Alberta, only equalled by one on a new building in Lethbrige.

ROTARY TO BUY PIANO

The local Rotary Club at the regular meeting on Monday decided to take definite action in obtaining a piano for the Club and the Club Service committee was asked to purchase one immediately and funds were voted from the Club treasuy to make a down payment on the same, the remainder to be paid by small additional levies at the luncheons once a month to finish the payments. The Club has felt the need of a piano ever since its meetings have been held without one, and while all the noise that emanates from the lungs of Rotarians might not be classed as music, still the singing of the Club serves a distinct purpose, and local Rotes are going to work now to become the best singing Club in the district, we hope.

The Red Cross was discussed in round table discussion and the members individually pledged their support to the cause, and before they left the meeting, quite a few handed their dollars to Don Merrill for membership in the Canadian Red Cross This demonstration of active interest by paying up promptly is the kind of language that is really understood in Red Cross work.

Help the Red Cross. Canada needs the Red Cross, the Red Cross needs you. DO YOUR BIT.
